Dear Fred;

When I was in Philadelphia as part of the Bixby library tour going from st louis you stated that your ancestor (William D. Peck) was an early 19th century botanist at Harvard University and did nature printing. You asked for a copy of my article. I do not know if your ancestor did direct nature printing from the leaf itself or made a printing plate by the Franklin process. My work is on the Franklin process.

We enjoyed tremendously our visit to the Academy and its treasures and thank you for the intellectual enjoyment and stimulation.

Please let me know if you find any improvements for my work 9 long ago

Sincerely

Please thank
Mr Elliott also.
